The Title of the file on the page is "Hello World" in Javascript. A: It's because the Content-Type is being sent as "text/html" in the request and not "application/x-www-form-urlencoded". I added 'Content-Type': 'application/x-www-form-urlencoded; charset=UTF-8' at the beginning of the request and the file started downloading, but still no string got sent in the url. I then added 'Accept-Encoding': 'gzip, deflate' (same as previous request) and the string was sent in the url: The file name in the url is in unicode. I tried several encodings, still no success. I also tried the filename in the url and it was the right one. A cost analysis of the first year of bovine chorionic gonadotropin administration to the newborn. A cost analysis of the first year of bovine chorionic gonadotropin (BGCG) administration to the newborn was performed. Fifty-four term, singleton infants with estimated gestational ages of 38 weeks or more and normal Apgar scores at birth were randomly assigned to receive either 150 IU human chorionic gonadotropin (HCG) or 50 IU HCG followed by 100 IU HCG 3 days later. The cost per child was $270 for BGCG and $80 for HCG. The administration of BGCG was significantly more costly than HCG, and there was a significant decrease in median birth weights in BGCG-treated infants. The difference in cost per infant between BGC 2d92ce491b
