Yahoo! Mail Checker is a simple, yet handy Widget that can be used to get real-time notifications about newly received messages in your Yahoo! Mail inbox. This is a Pocket Intelligence Widget to be embedded in a web page or any window in your computer. This widget enables you to get real-time notifications about newly received messages in your Yahoo! Mail inbox, without having to use a web browser. The main window can be configured in many ways; you can have it always on top of all other windows, as a floating window on a desktop, in a panel or dock the window, etc... You can also enable hotkeys to access it quickly in a different way. The application can be configured to be always run when you open a browser (default) or you can decide when to be active. You can choose to have the main window always on top or fix it in a position when the browser is active. You can also disable it when you close a browser. You can also configure it to have 2 monitors or monitors with different resolutions. You can choose to use the small screen, or instead use the full width or height of the monitor. This application is fully configurable through the web page. You can add or remove hotkeys, configure the main window position or use hotkeys that can allow you to access this main window when a browser is active or closed. In this way, you will see the main window in your desktop when you open the browser or close it, and you will still have the main window open on top of all the windows. Some hotkeys are included, such as minimize, maximize and restore the main window. You can also have the main window on a panel, on a dock or on a panel on desktop. The parameters can be saved in a single website, and this will help you in the future, when you want to update the shortcut or have the widget in a different place. The application is fully integrated with the Yahoo! Mail service, which means that if you activate this web page or window, you will have the main window when a new message is received. The main window can be used to send a message to a select contact (e.g. the person who sent the message), and this will ask you to input the message, the recipients and other details. A "select and send" button will be available to choose the selected contact and send the message as a single mouse click. Some simple integrated options

What's New in the?

The Yahoo! Mail Checker widget is a fast and simple way to check the new messages in your Yahoo! Mail account. The widget checks your inbox and notifies you when a new message has arrived. To start using the widget, open it by clicking on the 'Tools' menu and clicking on the 'Add new Widget' menu item. (You can also click on the 'Manage Widgets' button in the top right corner of the Yahoo! Mail window and select the 'My Widgets' menu item to get the same window as in the screenshot above.) After you add the widget to the My Widgets folder, the default shortcut - a small icon with a blue number - will appear on your desktop. If you want to change it, click on it and select the 'Default' option from the menu. Enter the username and password of your Yahoo! Mail account and click on the 'Sign In' button. After you are logged in, the widget will check the inbox for new messages for you. The widget uses Yahoo!'s user-friendly interface that is similar to that of the Yahoo! Mail web browser. It has a minimap in the upper left corner that enables you to quickly switch between the status of the current message and the list of all the received messages. If there is no new message, the minimap will be displayed with a blue number instead of the listing of the latest emails. To check the mailbox for a new message, right-click on the widget icon and select the 'Open mailbox' option. The number of new messages will be displayed in a new dialog window. If you are satisfied with the results, select the 'OK' button to close the widget. There is also an 'I want to remember these account details' option available for those who are always using the same web browser, as it will log in automatically to Yahoo! Mail the next time you open it. If you want to change the settings of the widget, click on the 'Preferences' button on the top toolbar. Note: Yahoo! Mail Checker doesn't monitor any security-sensitive data in
