Q: Compact metric space with no continuous linear functionals I know that in a topological vector space all topological vector spaces are metrisable (and compact) and in a normed vector space all complete normed vector spaces are metrisable (and compact). Is there a topological space that is compact and has no continuous linear functionals? A: No. Let's call a topological space "purely disconnected" if it has no connected components. An easy way to see that compact metric spaces are purely disconnected is to observe that the identity map is continuous. So let K be a compact metric space and let L be a linear functional on $C(K)$. Then the graph $\{(x, f(x)) \in K \times \mathbb{R} : f \in L\}$ is an open subset of $K \times \mathbb{R}$; there is no non-empty open subset of $K \times \mathbb{R}$ that is homeomorphic to the whole space. So $K \times \mathbb{R}$ is purely disconnected. --- title: "Upgrade Runtime from Visual Studio 2019 to Visual Studio 2019 for Mac" ms.date: "03/30/2017" ms.assetid: 3f0e8e61-83e8-4e4d-ac2e-1bc3c0fcf31c --- # Upgrade Runtime from Visual Studio 2019 to Visual Studio 2019 for Mac Before you can begin building for the Windows Store, you must upgrade your Runtime from Visual Studio 2019 to Visual Studio 2019 for Mac.
