After the installation of this program you will be presented with a screen displaying an information about your computer. At the top of the screen will be displayed a sentence that says that the software is making a scan of your computer. This scan is the detection of viruses and malware and will last about 10 minutes. The interface of the software is very simple and quite intuitive. You just need to click on the "Scan" button and wait until the scan is completed. The default folder to be scanned is the "Program files" folder. But if you do not want to scan the entire PC but only certain folders, just drag the folders to the "Scan this folder" area. The number of viruses and malware detected are shown at the bottom of the screen. It is very important to understand that the numbers may vary from time to time, especially after a scan. ============== For those that do not know what Autorun is, it is a malware that causes Windows registry issues and makes some files on a computer inaccessible. It is also a virus which is able to spread quickly by infecting removable media such as USB drives and CDs. The software itself is a great application that is easy to use and install. It does not get in the way of your computer and will not slow it down in any way. It does not ask for user input, which is a good thing when you have the malware infection on your computer. You will not have to spend any time figuring out the main purpose of the application and it will go about fixing your registry and computer issues quickly and efficiently. If you are running a virus scanner on your computer and it is not detecting the Autorun virus, you can safely add this application to your list of scans and remove any malware you may have found.
