Sound 1: Set to play continuously, adjust the volume and panning. Sound 2: Set to play continuously, adjust the volume and panning. Have trouble with some of these instructions? You may want to leave a comment if you have any feedback or bugs we can fix. There's also a few downloads up at the top with the full source code. What you need to know: I'm trying to keep this as simple as possible, so everyone should be able to figure things out once you've mastered the application. The next couple posts are going to go over the more advanced features of the app, but I'm going to keep the information a bit more simple. Just let me know if you have any other questions. Starting up ambient sounds: There are 2 ways to add a sound. 1. Load an audio file from the desktop or the program's directory 2. Load an audio file from the URL using your browser Here's how you add a sound: File = Select your audio file from the desktop or the directory where you saved it URL = Use the address bar in your browser to load the file from a web site. Remember to go to the.mp3 extension if you loaded the audio from a URL. Adding a Sound to the Playlist: When you select File > Add Sound, click the down arrow in the bottom right of the page. Playlist = Select the Playlist of audio files you want to play. Plays From Playlist = Select the audio file that you want to play. Starting = Select the volume and panning for the first sound. The volume and panning range from -1 to +1, with -1 being the least volume and -1 being the the most all the way to 1, with 1 being the most volume. Adding More Sounds: To add a sound to the next play, select it from the Playlist and then click the down arrow button in the bottom right of the page. You can easily save a sound, new playlist, play list, or use sound settings from this menu. Usage: There are only 4 options that can be changed with this application. Panning Left = Lower the left side of the sound. Panning Right = Lower the right side of the sound. Volume Down = Lower the volume on the sound. Volume Up = Raise the volume on the sound. 09e8f5149f

This application is perfect for creating a sound environment to encapsulate your mood. Have company coming over? Turn on your virtual Hawaii, they'll love it. Creating a sound environment couldn't be any easier; add your own sound files, control the occurrence of each individual sound, the volume and the panning. Ready to switch to another environment? Save your current playlist and load up any other existing playlists you've created. Some of my environments I've been able to create include, Field and Stream, Oceanside Pagoda, Midnight Thunder Storm, Downtown New York, Barn Yard Animals (why I don't know), Dungeon Crawl, and Day at NASCAR. What's New In Ambient Sounds?

This is a music application that lets you use the various DirectSound devices on your Windows PC to manipulate the sound(s) that your computer generates. It allows you to change the volume and panning of the individual sounds, as well as control the volume for the individual sound files. Each sound is muted and unmuted by a keypress. The Windows 3.1 version of this program is available for download on my homepage at Vista Dittos Patch I've built a new Vista version of my Win32 application Dittos. It now includes version 2.1 of the application in a separate file. In addition, it no longer requires the previous version of Dittos to be installed. It contains all the new features you've asked for. Most importantly, it allows you to configure the application to match the look and feel of the Vista operating system. The application is also packaged as an installer package so it can be updated easily.
