AutoCAD is ideal for engineers, architects, draftsman, and civil, mechanical, and electrical designers. AutoCAD also makes it easy to create construction drawings, plot and trace profiles, produce geometry data, and export to other programs for further editing. Some CAD programs have spreadsheet capabilities and even allow the user to write or manipulate text. AutoCAD has strong 2D and 3D drawing capabilities, and it has 3D modeling capabilities (notably for interior design). AutoCAD is an industry-standard design software. The Autodesk AutoCAD software is also available as a cloud service which works on any device, is more accessible, and easy to use. With the cloud service, there is no need to purchase the software and install it on one's desktop computer, tablet, or smartphone. Instead, customers can access a variety of cloud services such as AutoCAD in their office or home. This frees up work space, time, and expense, and it also allows users to perform certain functions at any time and from any location without having to purchase or install new software. AutoCAD's functionality varies depending on the software version and the number of licenses purchased. AutoCAD 2019 is a complete software package with features similar to previous versions, although it has enhancements for the new features in other AutoCAD releases. In September 2018, Autodesk announced the AutoCAD 20th anniversary celebration which will be held in San Francisco from April 25 through April 27, 2019. During the celebration, various booths will be set up and Autodesk plans to offer special gifts for attendees. AutoCAD Features AutoCAD has various command menus and workspaces to perform various tasks. Because AutoCAD is designed to be used by engineers, architects, and draftsmen, it has specific tools that can be used in their fields. Each menu contains various submenus. Each submenu provides the commands necessary for the users of a certain discipline. It is recommended that users become familiar with each of the submenus before using the menus. Overview The submenus in AutoCAD that pertain to drafting and design are listed in the table below. Some of the AutoCAD menu titles are difficult to understand, and the buttons on a mouse can be hard to locate. If you can see the menu title, it means that the menu exists, and that the buttons are visible. Note: If you are using a tablet

At a time when K&R Moratorium has been lifted in the legal community, K&R law firm has decided to end the association with the popular Times of India group. Earlier, some senior law firms, including Morley Wilson and the Bangalore-based Chella Prasad had dissociated themselves from the group. In a note to subscribers, Morley Wilson said: "We have been associated with TOI for the past three years and decided to part ways. The rates have been too high. Also, the quality of content has been questionable." Morley Wilson had spent crores of rupees on content preparation before the coming of the internet. Also, the firm realised it had invested too much time and money with TOI. "We do not want to invest more time and money in content preparation for TOI, when we can have our own team. Since 2014, we have had our own team, which has handled 1,500 stories," said Jeeva Shankar, senior partner at Morley Wilson. Other companies are also leaving the group. In March, the Times Group group decided not to renew its contract with CINT Media Centre (CMC), as was mandated by CINT Media Centre. "We are in discussion with other firms which are also interested in taking this off CINT Media Centre," said Anil Swarup, partner, CMC. However, CINT Media Centre, the agency which provides content for TV channels, newspaper groups and other media houses, is happy with the decision. "We are exploring possibilities for alternatives," said Anil Swarup. There are two CMC offices in Bangalore—one in HAL Layout and another at Prarthana, which is said to have been acquired for Rs 1.1 crore. "We had acquired it for Rs 50 lakh," said Swarup. The HAL office and the Prarthana office were set up by the original owner of CMC, who later sold it. After the original owner's death, the firm was taken over by Ramji Narayanan, who has always been in charge of the business and agency. At
