Roadside Romeo Movie 4 720p Free DownloadlA company called ARK in the UK is making a cash machine that's part Bitcoin ATM. It's designed to make ATMs a lot less handy for criminals. Rather than withdraw cash, it asks you for four pieces of information and sends you Bitcoin. You can check the balance of your Bitcoin stash, move it around, as well as send it on to different wallets. The coolest thing about this machine is that it's built into a cash machine. The idea is that it can send you to a website where you can transfer or sell Bitcoin. You can do all this from your own home, without having to go to an ATM at all. The ARK Bitcoin ATM isn't 100% ready for prime time yet. It's designed to be integrated into cash machines, not to turn them into Bitcoin ATMs. So far, they've only used the machine to send Bitcoin to the AlphaPoint wallet. You can buy your own from the cash machine. The ARK Bitcoin ATM isn't exactly the first Bitcoin ATM. But it is the first to automatically distribute Bitcoin instead of withdrawing it. This seems like the right way to add value to Bitcoin. Some other ATMs are also being manufactured by companies such as BitAccess in Canada. They convert traditional ATMs into Bitcoin ATMs. The ARK Bitcoin ATM is being introduced in the UK in four cities at the moment: Leeds, Liverpool, Manchester and Sheffield. The first place to get one is the North American city of Vancouver. It's a free-standing device. The others are the much more complicated beasts you'd expect from a modern ATM, like a machine next to a cash machine. They're taking orders on the ARK Bitcoin ATM website. With the first machines going out next month, you can reserve yours here.
