10:02 PDTThe present invention relates to a pressure-sensitive adhesive tape comprising a substrate and a pressure-sensitive adhesive layer, and in particular to a pressure-sensitive adhesive tape excellent in durability when wound or rewound. The present invention also relates to a pressure-sensitive adhesive composition. A pressure-sensitive adhesive tape for medical use, etc. is required to have an appropriate tackiness (an ability to adhere) and to be free from tackiness variation when wound or rewound, because it is used on wounded sites. Pressure-sensitive adhesive tapes are demanded to have other properties in addition to the above properties, in particular, an ability to be wound at high speed, an ability to be wound several times (good recovery property), and a property of not coming off and remaining on an adherend (remaining property). In addition, pressure-sensitive adhesive tapes are demanded to have an excellent winding durability when wound at high speed for industrial purposes, but are not demanded to have an improved winding durability at the same time. As a tape which satisfies the above properties, those described in Japanese Patent Laid
